SEDALIA, MISSOURI, TUESDAY, APRIL 5, 1892

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

THE ELECTION.

EXCITING SCENES WITNESSED ON THE STREETS TO-DAY.

Both Sides Working Hard for Victory--Indications Point to the Election of Democrats.

Sedalia never witnessed a more exciting or more closely contested election than that which is taking place to-day.

The campaign has been a most peculiar one, and party principles seem to have been lost sight of by the republican organ and republican managers, and the fight made on personalities alone.

Men who ordinarily have the interests of the city at heart seem to have lost their heads, and no charge has been too vile or too idiotic to bring against the democratic ticket, though republicans even admit that the ticket is composed entirely of honorable gentlemen, every one of whom is well fitted for the position for which he is a candidate.

This style of campaign has very naturally solidified the democratic party to a much greater degree than is usually found in municipal contests and has rallied many republicans to the support of the whole or a part of the democratic ticket.

At the hour of going to press every indication points to the triumphant election of every man on the democratic ticket.

Indeed, while no definite returns can be given this afternoon, it is certain that the democrats to a man are in the lead and their election absolutely sure, provided their friends continue the good work they have done all day.

But every vote must be brought out in order to make assurance doubly sure.

Not a man on the ticket will be lost, if the good work is continued, and Sedalians will go to bed to-night happy in the knowledge that the good name of the city has been maintained.

PRESBYTERY ADJOURNED.

Resolutions Against Sunday Opening of the World's Fair.

CLINTON, Mo., April 5.—The Lexington Presbytery adjourned at noon yesterday. The session was a very harmonious one and all matters were dispatched in a most satisfactory manner.

The committee on temperance presented a strong resolution protesting against the sale of intoxicants within the grounds of the Columbia exposition; the committee of Sabbath observance also very strongly protested against the keeping open of the World's fair on Sunday. The Presbytery adopted the report and every minister and delegate present pledged himself to circulate a petition asking their congressmen to refuse to appropriate any money to further the exposition until it is assured that there will be no Sunday opening and that intoxicants are banished from the grounds. They further appealed to all the churches of Christendom to take up the matter and bring such influence to bear as will show this to be a Christian nation in fact at the exposition. They also asked the secular press to lend its influence to that end. The next session will take place in Harrisonville, Mo.

A GREAT REVIVAL.

Remarkably Successful Meetings at the Christian Church.

One of the most remarkably successful series of meetings ever held in Sedalia has been in progress for the last two weeks at the Christian church, being conducted by the pastor, Elder Meyers.

Every night the audience is as large as can be seated in the spacious church and the interest being manifested is something wonderful.

There have been one hundred and five additions to the church in the last fourteen days, and one hundred and fourteen additions in all since the meetings began. There were nine additions last night.

"The Marriage Feast of the Great King" is the subject for to-night.

FAMOUS EXPRESS ROBBERS.

Witrock and Haight Pass Through Sedalia Yesterday Afternoon Bound for Kansas.

Fred Witrock, alias "Jim Cummings," and W. M. Haight were released from the penitentiary yesterday and passed through the city on the afternoon train. They were bound for Leavenworth, Kansas. Witrock is just recovering from a stroke of paralysis and is but a shadow of his former self. Each received $5 before leaving the penitentiary. This is the munificent sum of money allowed convicts sentenced from St. Louis. It will carry them back there and give them a banking capital of $1.25 on which to start life. But Witrock and Haight had both received money from relatives, and consequently were enabled to purchase tickets to their desired destination.

COLONELS AND MAJORS.

A New Ticket Put in the Field But it Fails to Win.

The following talented and well known gentlemen have left the ordinary walks of life and entered the political arena as shown by the following list known as the "Independent" ticket:

For mayor, Bob Rose; for marshal, Billy Hogg; for collector, Jimmie O'Brien; for treasurer, Col. Ol. Klinger; for attorney, Billy Walling; for recorder, Bichsy; for assessor, Charlie Conrad; for councilman, first ward, Jack Gibbs; second ward, Charlie Graham; third ward, John Keene; fourth ward, Georgie Wright; road overseer, 14th deeskrit, Billy Brown.

NOTE—If we elect our overseer we intend to celebrate.

They declare that they will organize whether elected or not. Billy Hogg has bought a pair of stilts and Bob Rose a base ball bat to wake up Billy Brown when he goes to sleep in the council chamber. It has been voted to buy an iron cage for Col. Ol. Klinger, as he is somnambulist and might walk out of the country some night.

Strange to say, the election returns do not show a single vote for any of these gentlemen.

If they fail this time, it is proposed to give them another chance and run them on the kite-shaped track this summer.

Milo Blair May Be its Editor.

The Sentinel plant was bid in yesterday by Theodore Fisher for Mrs. E. D. Crawford. Should Mrs. Crawford be unable to dispose of the property in a short time, it will be leased and Mr. Fisher allowed to remain as foreman and manager.

Unfold by the property still remains unsold by fall, Milo Blair will give it a new dress and, in all probability, become its editor.

Be Careful.

Scarlet fever is said to be prevalent in the south part of town and one or two deaths have already resulted from it in the past few days.

Too great precautions can not be taken by those living in the vicinity to guard against its spread.

State Board of Pharmacy.

Aug. T. Fleischmann returned at noon from Kansas City, where he went as member of the state board of pharmacy, which met at the Midland hotel yesterday. Considerable extra work was put upon the members, owing to the enforced absence of Dr. Sennewald, who remained in St. Louis on account of his wife's sickness.

Sixty applicants were examined, of which about twenty-five per cent. will pass.

The next session meets in Sedalia in July. This was formerly held in Jefferson City, but by the efforts of Mr. Fleischmann it was secured for Sedalia.

The Closing Ball.

Invitations are out announcing the closing ball of the Queen City Dancing Club on Monday evening, April 18th. A delightful dancing programme has been arranged and the large Armory hall will be filled with dancers. The famous Sedalia Military band will furnish the music and Prof. Lon Bernstein act as master of ceremonies. The dancing is to be followed by a banquet at Kaiser's.

A Telephone Line.

Our little neighbor, Hughesville, is getting the improvement fever and proposes to have a telephone line from that city to Sedalia in a short time. The line may possibly be extended to Sweet Springs.

The Wind Whistled.

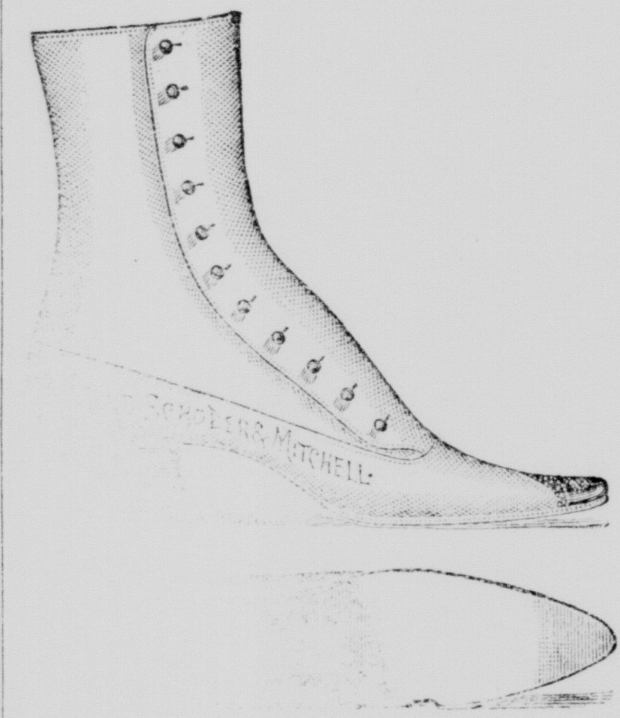

John R. Gentry went out on the Lexington branch this morning to his Locust Grove farm where he was called by his foreman to inspect the damage done by the recent storm. Fences have been washed away, farm houses blown down and things torn up generally.

Extra Policemen.

Mayor Stevens appointed ten extra policemen to-day to assist the regular force in preserving order during the excitement of the election.

A Church Blown Down.

Dr. Wm. Jones went to Warrensburg yesterday afternoon to look after the Methodist church in that city, which was recently wrecked by a storm. Last summer the edifice was improved at an outlay of $4,000, which with the original cost of the building makes the loss a very heavy one. Its pastor informed Dr. Jones yesterday that the storm had made the church a total wreck.

Temperance Meeting.

Gospel temperance meeting at Second Congregational church, Southeast Sedalia, on Thursday evening next, conducted by members of the Edward Murphy Temperance club. All temperance people and others are cordially invited to attend. Commence at 7:30.

Died at Lexington.

SPECIAL TO THE DEMOCRAT.
LEXINGTON, Mo., April 5.—J. Reid Moreland, city register and treasurer, died last night at his home in this city, after a short illness. In 1889 Mr. Moreland was united in marriage to Miss Mamie Young, who has many friends in Sedalia. By this union there is a chubby, lovely boy. He was a member of Lexington Lodge, No. 157, K. of P. He will be buried to-morrow.

"CALLED BY GOD."

The Blasphemous Orders That the "Prince" Lured His Victims With.

DETROIT, Mich., April 5.—The examination of "Prince" Michael Mills and Lizzie Court, members of the "Flying Roll" sec., who are charged with various acts of immorality, took place yesterday. Bernice Bechel, the 15-year-old girl who charges the "Prince" with seduction, was the first witness.

She began her testimony by stating that she made the "Prince's" acquaintance at the house of her uncle in Samia. Later she came to Detroit. From here she received a letter from the "Prince." In it she was ordered to join him, as she was "called by God to take the tenth place in the Godhead respecting obedience."

AT THE CITY HALL.

Colored Democrats Have an Enthusiastic Meeting.

The meeting of the colored democrats at the city hall last night was one of the most enthusiastic that has ever been held in the city. The meeting was addressed by Messrs. Cashman, Dexter and a number of good colored speakers.

There was a large crowd of colored men present, and the meeting continued to a late hour.

Up From Kansas.

A large delegation came up from Parsons to-day to look on at the election. Among them are Will McDonald, E. R. Diggs, Seymour Mayer, Harry McClure, George Sinclair, B. A. Woodruff, Billy Bowles, Dick Fraizer, Otto Jacobs, D. S. Willard and Jim Glass.

RILEY'S FIRST EFFORTS.

An Interview Regarding His Early Days in Literature.

James Whitcomb Riley, the poet of dialect and pathos, was born in Greenville, Ind., about twenty miles from Indianapolis, but the latter city has been his headquarters for the last twelve years, during which he has been before the public as a poet and a reader, says the Baltimore Sun. In telling the story of his first efforts in literature yesterday, Mr. Riley said:

"About fifteen years ago I used to read locally for our home concerts and entertainments, which included acting and recitations. I always wanted to act, and singled out character or dialect pieces. Sometimes I would run up a stump. For instance, I would find in telling a quaint story that I couldn't do it right because it was not written in a natural way. It may have been a recognition of histrionic propensities, but the question suggested itself to me: 'How can you say a thing naturally unless it is properly phrased?' The next thought was: Why not write something yourself, and see whether it will work? You can recite it as if from one of the magazines or books of recitations, and if it is considered good you can let them know you wrote it.' I never expected to see one-half of what I have written printed, because in dialect writing a thing may appear crude and rough, and all its force and beauty come from hearing it recited, with the proper feeling and regard for punctuation.

"There is no such thing as elocution—that is, outside of tragedy. In reading, it is the imperfections that we want to produce. Stage traditions would not allow me to stand with my hands in my pockets, but we are to reproduce just such natural things. They say that is a notion of mine, but nevertheless that is my view of the matter."

SILVER AND WOOL.

SENATOR MORGAN SPEAKS ON SILVER

And Also Senator Stewart—Mr. Springer Appeared in the House and Was Warmly Received—His Speech on the Free Wool Bill Read By Mr. Bryan.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The expectation of an interesting discussion in the senate on the silver question based upon Mr. Morgan's resolution instructing the committee on finance to examine and report upon certain phases of the subject seemed to have no particular attractive power on the general public, for the galleries had even less than the usual number of spectators.

Mr. Sherman attempted to hold off the silver talk by calling up a bill for a uniform standard and classification and grading of grain, but was stopped by an objection from Mr. Stewart.

Mr. Morgan said he knew that the subject was one which struck the attention of senators in an alarming way, because the people of the United States were very earnest in their desire to have some relief from the existing financial condition and embarrassment. He then reviewed the situation and legislation of recent years at considerable length. He was interrupted frequently at first by Messrs. Sherman, Carlisle and Stewart, but these and other senators soon left the chamber, and Mr. Morgan set forth his views until 2 o'clock, when the president laid before the senate the unfinished business (the bill as to the court of appeals).

Mr. Dawes moved that the bill be laid aside and that Mr. Morgan be permitted to proceed with his remarks. An attempt was made to get from him an idea as to whether he would occupy the rest of the day. His reply was that he had never been able to measure the time that he would occupy in making a speech. He was permitted to proceed unconditionally.

In the course of his speech Mr. Morgan referred to Mr. Cleveland as having come to the presidency with a sort of Wall street congestive chill upon him, as commencing to prophesy evil and as throwing the whole weight of his administration against silver.

"If," continued Mr. Morgan, "senators could only forget Cleveland and Hill, and Carlisle and Callum, and Allison and other great and good men who were aspiring to the presidency of the United States, and the honorable senator from Ohio (Mr. Sherman), if he had not discarded all such pretensions—if senators could discard their friendliness for these aspirations and would come together and lock their hands on the silver question and say that they would do all that wisdom and a devoted love of the country suggested, there would be no more trouble about the silver question. Then the senator from Ohio would have the right to rejoice, contrary to his will, at being led up to such a high position."

As soon as Mr. Morgan resumed his seat Mr. Sherman arose and said that he did not intend to enter on the discussion of the silver question, but he wished to have the sense of the senate whether senators were to have a silver debate and in order to have that question settled he proposed to lay the resolutions on the table.

Mr. Teller said that he wanted to say to the senator from Ohio, who, being flushed perhaps, with the victory apparently achieved in the house against silver, seemed to think that he could down a debate in the senate on that subject.

Mr. Sherman denied in the most emphatic terms that he had endeavored to stifle the debate. He declared that there was no ground for such assertion. He had never objected to any senator speaking at any time on any subject. Every senator present knew that. Mr. Sherman went on to defend the act of 1890 and said that it would be made (with proper amendments) the fulcrum on which rested the whole financial system of the country. There was no bank in the world so strong as the treasury of the United States to-day—so strong in its ability to redeem every outstanding obligation.

Mr. Stewart then made a speech on the general subject of silver.

At the close of his remarks the matter went over, Mr. Morgan's resolutions being placed on the calendar under the rules. After an executive session the senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—It is not often that it falls to the lot of man to receive the generous ovation that the house yesterday extended to Hon. William M. Springer, of Illinois, chairman of the ways and means committee. Politics were forgotten for a few brief minutes, and as Congressmen Dingley, Burrows, Hopkins and other vigorous campaigners of the republican side crossed over and were followed by dozens of their colleagues, the smile of the Illinois leader was slightly dimmed by misty tears of gratitude as he grasped their extended hands. During this reception the clerks stood idle and the chairman protem awaited the moment that the convalescent leader should express a desire to speak.

"Mr. Chairman," said Mr. Springer, when order was once more restored, "I had hoped to be able on this occasion to make some extended remarks on the pending bill, but the condition of my health is such that I am admonished that I can not do so. I have prepared a brief statement, however, which I will ask my distinguished friend from Nebraska, Mr. Bryan, to read for me."

Another burst of applause followed these few words of Mr. Springer, which were clear and distinct but not in that strong tone which characterizes his utterances in health. The Nebraskan sitting next to the chairman of the committee then read the closing speech of the Illinois tariff reformer.

After reading at length from the report of the committee, which drew the bill to place wool on the free list and to reduce the duties on woolen goods, the speaker said: "It is evident that the price of wool in the United States varied not in accordance with the tariffs on wool, but in sympathy with the price of wool in the markets of the world; that its value here is determined primarily by its value in those markets and that to correctly interpret its rise and fall we must be in possession of all the facts regarding the general business condition in this and other countries and particular conditions surrounding the wool manufacturing."

"An increased demand will produce an increased price. The pending bill is in the interest of the wool growers as well as the wool manufacturers but is especially in the interests of the consumer. If the report of your committee is carefully considered it will be seen that the experience of the past quarter of a century of high protective tariffs on wool and high protective tariffs on woolen goods has proved to be disastrous to the wool grower, disastrous to the wool manufacturer and disastrous to the American consumer."

"In conclusion, Mr. Chairman, I desire to call attention to the fact that the placing of raw material on the free list and the corresponding reduction of the duty on refined sugar by the act of October 1, 1890, caused an increased consumption of sugar to the amount of 23.96 per cent. during the year 1891, the first year after its passage."

"The passage of the pending bill will have similar effect. It will cause an increased consumption of woolen goods to an equal amount. Such an increase in the consumption of woolen goods during the first year after its passage will cause a demand for more woolen establishments and will cause the 271 establishments which were idle during 1890 to be started up again. It will demand increase of capital in such establishments to the amount of $74,000,000; an increase in materials to be used to the amount of $48,000,000; in the product of woolen goods a demand for 61,000,000 pounds more of domestic wool and for 27,000,000 pounds more of foreign wool. It will give employment in woolen factories to 52,000 more hands and will increase the amount of wages to be paid to such hands to the amount of $17,000,000."

"With increased demand for wool, prices of wool will increase, and with this increased demand for labor, wages will also increase. Pass this bill and thousands of feet heretofore bare, thousands of limbs heretofore naked will be clothed in suitable garments and the condition of all the people will be improved. Those who favor its passage may be assured that they have done something to promote the general wealth, something to scatter plenty over our smiling land."

The speech of Mr. Springer, thus delivered, was warmly applauded and the general debate being closed the committee took up the bill by paragraphs for amendment and discussion under the five minute rule.

Mr. Burrows moved to strike out from the first paragraph the provision which places all wools on the free list. He read a communication from Mr. North denying that any such interpretation could be placed upon his first communication as had been placed upon it by the report of the majority of the committee on ways and means.

There was a very large number of members in attendance, but they paid little or no attention to the debate. The confusion was very great; so great in fact, that at one time Mr. Burrows suggested that the committee arise and the house adjourn in order to enable members to carry on their conversation without being interrupted by the speaker. Without taking a vote upon Mr. Burrows' amendment the committee arose and the house adjourned.

A SON-IN-LAW KILLED.

An Effort to Get Possession of a Child Caused the Father-in-Law to Shoot Him.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 5.—Trainmen on the Jefferson City & Lebanon branch brought in scant particulars yesterday evening of a domestic tragedy that occurred near Brumley, in Miller county, some time Sunday. John Leets and his wife separated, the wife going to the home of her father near by, and taking the only child with her. Subsequently Leets concluded to take possession of the child, and to this end repaired to the house of his father-in-law with a pistol. The old man was at home and he and Leets soon became involved in trouble in front of the house.

Leets drew his pistol and fired several shots at his father-in-law, but without effect. The latter ran into the house, secured a shotgun, and shot Leets dead in his tracks. That is all the information that could be obtained. The scene of the tragedy is fifteen miles from a railroad or telegraph office.

A Democratic Circular.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The national association of democratic clubs, through its executive committee, is sending out to all local clubs a circular letter urging the organization of auxiliary societies throughout the union by which to fight the battle of the year. One of the circulars gives the object of the campaign by the republicans to be the election of a congress that shall pass a force bill, and to avert that the organization of local societies is declared to be desirable. By means of such organizations the battle must be fought.

Six Horses Suffocated.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 5.—Fire broke out last night in a stable occupied by William O'Connell, on Quincy street and six horses were smothered by the smoke. The building was not seriously injured. The fire was probably of incendiary origin. This is the third time that O'Connell has lost horses by fire within a few months.

Secretary Noble made a decision in the case of Quental Grant against the Northern Pacific railway in which he holds in favor of Grant. The land involved is located near the city of Spokane Falls, and is said to be very valuable. The case has been before the department for nine years.

A GENUINE CYCLONE.

Destruction Wrought By One Near Cherryvale, Kan.

ONE KILLED AND SIXTY INJURED.

The Neighborhood of Bosworth, Mo., Visited—Kirkville, Mo., Struck and Injury Done—Two More Deaths at Towanda, Kan.

CHERRYVALE, Kan., April 5.—Storm stricken southern Kansas received another visitation of the dread monster Sunday afternoon. This time the instrument of destruction was the genuine cyclone, a funnel-shaped cloud, which whirling and twisting carried everything before it on its journey from southwest to northeast.

This is the list of casualties: Mrs. John Reeves, killed instantly; John Reeves, fatally injured; Mrs. Perry Nixon, seriously injured; Mrs. E. R. Lawson, struck by lightning.

The storm made its first manifestation at Liberty, eight miles south of this city, where it carried away part of the Southern Kansas depot, scattered the contents of S. A. Brown & Co.'s lumber yard and overturned several small houses.

Three miles further to the northeast it struck the farm house of Dr. J. F. Gard of this city, occupied by John Reeves, carried away the house, barn and outbuilding, killed Mrs. Reeves outright and fatally injured Mr. Reeves. From this point the cyclone continued the destruction of fences, hay stacks, orchards and small buildings until it came to a farm house, three miles southeast of this town, occupied by J. J. Emmerson, who until a short time since resided in Cherryvale. It blew the house and barn away and carried Mr. and Mrs. Emmerson several hundred feet seriously injuring them.

One-half mile further on it struck the house of L. Baker, scattering it over adjacent fields, leaving Mr. Baker and his three daughters huddled in a heap on the floor, which alone remained on the foundation.

Among other places still further north and east which were damaged were those of Perry Nixon, Nelson Warner and Fred Waggoner. Mrs. Nixon was the only one in that neighborhood who sustained serious injury, although the houses and barns in the path of the storm in that locality were completely demolished.

The summary of the storm's casualties in this vicinity is one killed, three badly and sixty slightly injured. The only damage done in this city was a number of window lights broken by the hail. The destruction of property in the country was terrible.

CARROLL COUNTY, MO., VISITED.

CARROLLTON, Mo., April 5.—The neighborhood of one and one-half miles north of Bosworth, this county, was visited by a cyclone Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The cloud had the shape of an inverted funnel, and when first seen was approaching from the Big creek bottom in the direction of the town of Bosworth, but fortunately for the inhabitants of that place it changed its course to the northeast.

The devastated district is a strip about 100 yards wide and 200 yards long, inside of which everything in the shape of houses, barns, outbuildings, fences and trees are either swept away or more or less damaged.

The cloud lifted up after striking Mr. Eisenhauer's place and crossed over Grand river into Chariton county.

As a result of the very heavy rains of the last two days, the Wakenda creek, just south of this city, is out of its banks and overflowing hundreds of acres of land. The high rock road between the city and the Wabash depot is covered with water which is still rising at a rapid rate. Fears are entertained that the water will cause great damage and perhaps loss of life.

AT KIRKVILLE, MO.

KIRKVILLE, Mo., April 5.—A cyclone struck this town Sunday night. It struck Kirkville at the Wabash railway and took a turn from north to directly east, following the row of blocks between Washington and Harrison streets, the eastern limits of the city, a distance of about a mile. It tore off the cornice of the First national bank and the fronts out of three stores on the east side, throwing the bricks nearly across the street. It passed on east wrecking chimneys, porches, etc., of residences until it reached the last two houses in the row, which it completely demolished.

The damage done to the normal building by Friday's storm is estimated at $10,000. The loss is fully covered by a cyclone insurance company.

MORE DEATHS AT TOWANDA.

WICHITA, Kan., April 5.—Two more graves are being dug in the little cemetery on the hill above the spot where Towanda once flourished. They are for the latest victims of Thursday's terrible tornado—C. L. Westcott, an octogenarian, and the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Hall, who died yesterday afternoon. These increase the number of deaths to nine instead of ten.

Snowstorms in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., April 5.—Snowstorms are again raging in the north and west of the state and threaten to blockade railways. A land slide blocks the bridge over the Missouri Pacific at Rulo. The telegraph wires are in bad shape and the Union Pacific has only one working and that via Kansas. Telegrams are sent by mail between this city and Cheyenne.

Two Hundred Lost.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 5.—It is reported here that a steamer bound from the Persian coast of Baku, in the Black sea, with 200 passengers and a cargo of cotton, has been lost with all on board. It is said that the disaster was due to the fact that the steamer was greatly overloaded.

A terrible rainstorm has been raging all over the east.

WEARING THE SHAMROCK.

The Question Revived in the House of Commons, But Not Satisfactorily Settled.

LONDON, April 5.—In the house of commons, Mr. Patrick O'Brien revived the question of the wearing of the Shamrock on St. Patrick's day by Irish soldiers in the British army, by asking whether Mr. Stanhope, secretary of state for war, was aware of the fact that the Northumberland fusiliers, whether they were Irish, Scotch or Welsh, were obliged to wear a rose on St. George's day. Mr. O'Brien also asked whether the government would provide for the wearing of national party emblems, or allow all nationalities to wear their respective favors on their national festivals.

Mr. Stanhope replied that the rose had been the badge of the Northumberland fusiliers since 1867. The wearing of the emblem had no political significance and he saw no reason to interfere with the custom.

Mr. O'Brien was not satisfied with the reply of the war secretary and he intends to continue his badge ring upon the first occasion that offers.

The Site Changed.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Secretary Noble yesterday made an order changing the site for the county seat of county "H" in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservation in Oklahoma. The site first selected was found to be unsuitable for the purpose on account of its liability to overflow from the neighboring stream. The new site is the south half of section 13, township 9, range 16 west.

Working on the Sealing Matter.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Secretary Blaine and Gen. Foster had a conference with the president this morning in arrangements for a closed sea of Behring sea this year, and the president devoted a great part to the consideration of that subject, denying himself to all other visitors. It is understood that the negotiations for a modus vivendi are nearing a conclusion.

Robbers at Plattsburg, Mo.

PLATTSBURG, Mo., April 5.—Thieves entered the store of Connor & Weiser and secured several hundred dollars' worth of merchandise, including clothing, gents' furnishing goods, etc. They gained an entrance through a basement window and carried their booty off in a wagon.

Funeral of Hon. John Hutchings.

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 5.—The funeral of Hon. John Hutchings took place from the family residence at 3 o'clock yesterday. A great many prominent people from all parts of the state were in attendance. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Howland.

Lost By Lynchers.

LITHONIA, Ga., April 5.—The parties which went in search of the two negroes who had assaulted Postmaster Brown's daughter Sunday have returned and report there was no use in further pursuing as the two men were lost. What that means is generally understood.

Caprivi Will Take the Cure.

BERLIN, April 5.—The North German Gazette says that Chancellor von Caprivi will go to Carlsbad after Easter to take the cure.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

The loss at the New Orleans fire is placed at $2,500,000.

The Walsall anarchists were convicted at London yesterday.

Several new cases of typhus fever have been discovered in New York.

The union depot ticket office at Omaha was robbed the other day of $10,000 worth of tickets.

SO RUNS THE WORLD AWAY.

An Ordinary Incident Which Soured the Conductor's Temper.

From the Detroit Tribune.

The two ladies opposite the stove, although manifestly well acquainted, had not spoken a word for several minutes before the car stopped with a jerk. The conductor, an inexperienced young thing, clung expectantly to the bell cord, undoubtedly believing in his innocence that it would be a matter of only a few seconds until he could signal the driver to proceed.

"Oh, I get off here, good-by."

"Why that's so, isn't it. I didn't realize that we had come so fast. Good-by."

"Good-by."

"Good-by."

The untutored conductor was right on the point of jerking the rope.

"This mud is horrid, isn't it? Good-by."

"Perfectly dreadful. Good-by."

"Good-by."

"Good-by."

The conductor was losing his confidence. His arm dropped.

"So glad I met you downtown. Good-by."

"Lovely time. Good-by."

"Good-by."

"Good-by."

The conductor abandoned the cord altogether and looked anxious.

"Let's go again to-morrow. Good-by."

"I'd be delighted. Good-by."

"Good-by."

"Good-by."

"Twentieth street!" bellowed the conductor, with the patent purpose of creating a disturbance.

"I'll come for you. Good-by."

"Very well. Good-by."

"Good-by."

"Good-by."

When she finally alighted the conductor went forward and told the driver he must make the horses gallop to the end of the line if he expected to make time.

ALMOST A FIGHT.

A Chilean Torpedo Boat Narrowly Misses a U. S. Vessel.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received by a Boonville friend from Ensign Ben. F. Hutchison, of the U. S. S. Yorktown:

"CALLAO, PERU, February 8th, 1892.—The last letter I received from the states was written some time in December. What is the matter? I hope the gripe has not gotten a hold of any of you. We came here to bring the Chilean refugees out of the American legation at Santiago, and we are now waiting for further orders. The war seems to have quieted down now, and, as far as we can learn here, everything is peaceable. For awhile—the last few days we were in Valparaiso—things were in a very uncertain condition. We did not know, in fact, what minute we would be ordered to open fire on the Chileans. One morning I was on the deck, and a Chilean drilling and instructions were being given to the Chilean cadets. A young officer was in charge of the torpedo boat. She pointed directly for us, and only sheered off just in time to clear us by about twenty feet; had her steering gear broken or helm jammed, just at that moment, she would have struck us without doubt. Captain Evans was, of course, mad, and gave me orders if one of their torpedo boats should by any chance graze our ship or touch it, to open fire on them at once, with as many guns as we could bring to bear on them, and sink the boat; he also reported to the senior Chilean naval officer the performance, and what orders he had given, and after that we noticed that when out drilling they did not come near us."

PERSONALS.

Col. Sheldon was a noon passenger from Kansas City.

Col. Ames went to his home at Otterville this morning.

J. R. Barrett left at noon to look after some business interests in Arkansas.

Bob Prigmore came in from Houstonia to-day to watch the political issues.

Oscar Ott, Sedalia's new pharmacist, was a passenger to Otterville this morning.

S. P. Johns went to Hughesville to-day to look after his lumber yard at that point.

Bert Leake, who left several months ago to reside in Chicago, is visiting friends in the city.

W. W. Campbell, general baggage master of the "Katy," came in at noon from Kansas City.

Mrs. Lee, who has been visiting the family of Samuel Sprecher, left for her home in Texas at noon.

Tom Hickey is in town to-day laying in a supply of variegated neckties and bandana handkerchiefs.

Roy Ruckner, Tom Cummings and Arthur Hinchcliffe came up from windy Kansas this morning.

Dr. Willis P. King passed through the city yesterday afternoon on his way from St. Louis to Kansas City.

J. W. Allen, assistant general freight agent of the "Katy," went north on a business trip and will return to-morrow.

Mrs. Parberry, mother of Mrs. John D. Crawford, is said to have taken a relapse and is now lying at the point of death.

Fred Richt returned to Wichita yesterday afternoon. Fred is doing a big business and is unable to remain away but a short time.

The Misses Widdicomb, two extremely handsome and cultured young ladies of Boonville, are the guests of Miss Ittel on East Seventh street.

Mrs. Louise Smith, of Logansport, Ind., left yesterday afternoon for Kansas City after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis R. Smith.

The many friends of Louis Ames, who has been so dangerously sick at the M., K. & T. hospital, will be glad to know that he is much better.

Major L. C. Gunn arrived from Parsons this morning, as also did Alec Snodgrass, George Flannigan, Jim Looney, H. M. Shockley and G. T. Waller.

Mr. Johnson and wife, came in at noon from Lawrence, Kansas, on their way to Fayette, where they will visit Mr. Johnson's parents.

Mr. Johnson is the brother of Sam W. Johnson, of the Bazoo, who entertained them while in the city.

SHOP AND RAIL.

A CURRENT HISTORY OF THE RAILROAD WORLD.

What Men Are Doing and Saying and Companies Planning and Executing.

Wabash earnings for the fourth week in March were $356,788, an increase of $34,251. Earnings for the month were $1,134,704, an increase of $111,365.

Leeds to go With the Union Pacific

In a dispatch to the Republic from Omaha yesterday the following is said of J. S. Leeds, formerly traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific:

It was whispered to-day in railroad circles that Gould proposes to get even for having to discharge Traffic Manager Leeds last summer, by making him traffic manager of the Union Pacific.

Mr. Leeds is now on the Pacific coast at the head of the freight bureau organized by California merchants for self protection. General Manager Clark, of the Union Pacific, has said that he will not appoint a traffic manager to succeed C. S. Melen until after he has consulted with those higher in authority. It is inferred that the appointment will not be made until after the annual election this month, when it will be determined whether the Gould management will be continued or not.

Gone to Texas.

L. N. Kintz left last evening for Denison, where he goes to assume his new position, that of claim agent of the M., K. & T. for Texas. Although but a resident of this city a few months, Mr. Kintz has drawn around him many friends who regret to see him leave the city, but as he goes to accept a better position, with more emoluments, there are none to say nay, and in his new field he may rest assured that his friends in Parsons will wish him lots of success and have no fears but he will prove true to every trust.—Parsons Sun.

Railroad Men in the Boat Business.

H. J. Hargraves, formerly commercial agent of the Illinois Central, has been appointed Kansas City agent of the packet line, subject to the instructions of Secretary Vanlandingham. The appointment will take effect to-day, the circulars being issued yesterday. The duties of the agent will be to work up business at this point for the boats. A determined effort will be made to build up a big business here and to that end the services of an experienced railroad man have been secured.

Will Doubtless be Permanent.

The St. Louis Republic to-day has the following:

C. Haile, general freight agent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, will, until further advice, perform the duties devolving upon the freight traffic department, Mr. A. S. Dodge having resigned the position of freight traffic manager to accept service with the Cotton Belt line. Walter G. Graham, general ticket agent, will, until further advice, perform the duties formerly devolving upon Gaston Meslier as general passenger agent at Parsons, Kas.

A Railroad Bridge in Danger.

Fraimen on the north end of the M., K. & T., are experiencing much anxiety over high water.

The bridge over Salt river at Paris, Mo., is almost touched by the water. Should the rains continue another day, it is thought the structure will be swept off the abutments.

His Last Scare.

From the Utica (N. Y.) Observer.

"Twenty-seven years ago to-day I had my last scare in the army," said the veteran this morning.

"But I thought you said you fought your last battle twenty-seven years ago last Friday," suggested the inquisitive member.

"That is true," growled the veteran, "but do you think a man can't get scared in the army unless he is fighting a battle? The facts were: I was appointed officer of the picket on the night of the 30th of March, 1865. On the morning of the 31st of March, at about 2 o'clock, I was sent for and found myself in the presence of a Massachusetts major, who was an aide-de-camp on General Burnside's staff, and who told me that at daybreak there would be an advance of our lines, and that when I saw the flag raised over Fort Stedman I could rush forward and capture the enemy's picket. So at about 4 o'clock I began to watch the fort, and from that time until 6 I saw—or fancied that I saw—over 10,000 flags go up there."

"And how many flags really went up?" asked the inquisitive member. "None," sighed the veteran. "For some reason they concluded not to attack that morning, and they didn't think it necessary to inform me of it; so I had my April fool's joke a day in advance of time."

April Weather.

Foster says the first storm moon of April is to cross the continent from April 4th to 9th, and the cool wave to cross the continent from 6th to 11th. The next storm wave will reach the Pacific coast about April 9th, cross the western mountains by the close of the 10th, the great central valley from 11th to 13th and the eastern states about the 15th. This disturbance will be at its greatest force in the western portion of the great central valleys about the 10th. The cool wave will cross the continent from 12th to 17.

Growing spring weather will advance rapidly, with good rains in most places during the first half of the month. The average of warm weather will rapidly increase until about the 25th, when a cooler period will set in. Rainfall will be deficient during the last half of the month in many places.

A New Swindle.

A new swindle is being successfully worked in various parts of the state. A man drops into a store and informs the proprietor that he is searching for rare coins and leaves a list of the kind he wants with the price he will pay for each. He asks the proprietor to save all the coins on that list that comes his way and keep them for him. Soon another party strolls around, buys a cigar or some article and exhibits a coin with the remark that they are pocket pieces. On consulting his list the proprietor finds their value is marked at $35 each. There is a chance for speculation and after some bargaining the second party sells the coin. Number one never shows up.

Granulated Eye Lids.

The symptoms of an acute attack of granulated lids is characterized by pain in the eye, sensitiveness to light and particularly by the sensation, as of a foreign body beneath the lids. Later on the discharge becomes abundant and purulent. This purulent stage continues for a few weeks when the secretion diminishes little by little until the general inflammatory state disappears and the disease centers itself beneath the upper lid and becomes chronic, when it is usually followed by a pannus which forms on the cornea and by degrees spreads over the cornea until it assumes a whitish aspect. At this stage vision is almost or quite obscured and the unfortunate possessor is rendered blind. I have a process of treatment for this disease, which enables me to say, will render a permanent cure and under favorable circumstances in a very short time. My charges are very reasonable so that no one suffering from this trouble need be barred out on this account and a positive cure is assured it taken in time, by
